1. BACKGROUND INFORMATION

South Africa has one of the highest unemployment rates in the world which currently stands at more than 32.7% (Stats SA), hence job creation and skills development have remained one of the top priorities of the South African National Government. The Expanded Public Works Programme (EPWP) is one of Government's medium to long term strategies to reduce unemployment and alleviate poverty through creation of work opportunities using labor-intensive methods. The EPWP is also a strategy used by government to improve skills development through training, capacity development and on-the-job training of people involved in the programme.

2. DEPARTMENTAL AND PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

The Department of Economic Development, Tourism and Environment Affairs is currently implementing an EPWP programme (Invasive Alien Species Programme) which serves as one of its response to job creation and skills development. For this purpose, the Department currently implements 41 EPWP projects that deal with the control and management of alien plants within various prioritized local municipalities of the province. The Invasive Alien Species Programme (IASP) is constituted within the National Government's Expanded Public Works Programme framework which aim to address socio-economic challenges being experienced, especially within rural areas. Recruitment of project participants is targeted to the poor and unemployed communities mainly from rural areas and priority is given to (60%) women, (55%) youth, and (2%) people living with disabilities. The EPWP projects assist the Department to achieve its environmental mandate of clearing invasive alien plants and thus achieving one of its environmental strategic goals.

3. IMPLEMENTATION OF EPWP TRAINING PROGRAMME WITHIN DEPARTMENT

In accordance with the National Skills Accord, training is considered a critical element within EPWP. Hence according to the Code of Good Practice for Special Public Works Projects read together with the Ministerial Determination, workers employed in EPWP projects are expected to receive training. The training of EPWP participants is informed by the lack of skills that is still being experienced by many South African citizens. Furthermore, the South African government has introduced a number of policies and prescripts to ensure the lack of skill base in the country is addressed. However, implementation of many of the policies and prescripts is still lacking, hence training of EPWP participants remains the most critical element of the Department. Among the many reasons why training of EPWP participants is critical are the following:

- ✓ The EPWP programmes employs people from rural communities that may not have any background on the work required to be undertaken by the project teams, hence the provision of training is critical as it can assist the participants to learn and perform to their assigned duties effectively and efficiently.
- ✓ Some of the work activities of the EPWP projects involves handling of chemicals and herbicides, therefore, this automatically compels the Department to comply with several prescripts which regulate the use of such chemicals. Among the prescripts is the Health and Safety Act (Act No. 85 of 1993) and the Hazardous Chemical Substances Regulations of 1995. Both prescripts mandate the employer (in this case the Department, by extension) to provide critical accredited trainings to persons handling the chemicals and herbicides.

- ✓ Project workers involved in the EPWP programmes in many times conduct their work activities under very harsh and dangerous environments and this automatically compels the Department to adhere to the requirements of Health and Safety Act (Act 85 of 1993), which among others it requires the provision of health and safety representatives and provision of First Aiders at project sites. Furthermore, according to Section 8, 2(e) of the Health and Safety Act, one of the duties of employer to their employees is the provision of health and safety related trainings to ensure as far as is reasonably practicable the health and safety of his employees. This relates to the provision of Health and safety representatives and First Aid Training.
- ✓ According to one prescript that regulates the use, transportation and handling of chemicals/herbicides in the country, it states “Any person who for reward OR in the course of a business, industry or trade uses an agricultural remedy must register as a Pest Control Operator in terms of the Fertilizers, Farm Feeds, Agricultural Remedies and Stock Remedies Act, 1947 (Act No. 36 of 1947) as amended and the regulations relating thereto as published in Government Notice No. R1449 of 1 July 1983.” One of the EPW programme (the IASP) its operations are within the industry or trade, that uses agricultural remedies (chemicals), and in terms of the Act, persons who supervises the IASP project teams (Project Officers and Contractors) should have a valid pest control certificate. In essence this Act compels the Department to ensure that project participants receive the herbicide applicator course or the environmental management or Pest control operator course.
- ✓ The provision of training courses will also enable the EPWP participants to access better employment opportunities after they exit the Departmental EPWP programmes.
- ✓ Overall, the provision of training will ensure that the Departmental EPW Programme complies with various national prescripts that govern many of the activities that the EPWP projects will be involved with.

4. RATIONALE OF THE PROJECT

As earlier mentioned, the Department (EDTEA) currently implements 41 EPWP IASP projects that deal with the control and management of alien plants within the KZN province. Resulting from the 41 projects, the Department is able to create more than 7725 jobs annual and contribute to the participant’s skills development. However, these objectives can only be achieved through having a structured training programme for the beneficiaries involved. Hence the need to solicit an accredited professional service provider that would assist the Department to train the EPWP participants. The required three-day course will equip project participants with the relevant skillset that will provide them with necessary knowledge and understanding to control weeds using herbicides.

5. PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES OF THE TERMS OF REFERENCE

The purpose of the Terms of Reference is to solicit a training service provider with an accreditation from Fibre Processing and Manufacturing Sector Education and Training Authority (FP & M- SETA) to assist the Department with training of IASP project workers on Herbicide Applicator course based on Unit Standard 123134, titled “Apply herbicide to noxious weeds” NQF Level 1, Credits 3.
