This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids invited. It contains general information and serves as a declaration form for local content (local production and local content are used interchangeably).

Before completing this declaration, bidders must study the General Conditions, Definitions, Directives applicable in respect of Local Content as prescribed in the Preferential Procurement Regulations, 2017, the South African Bureau of Standards (SABS) approved technical specification number SATS 1286:2011 (Edition 1) and the Guidance on the Calculation of Local Content together with the Local Content Declaration Templates [Annex C (Local Content Declaration: Summary Schedule), D (Imported Content Declaration: Supporting Schedule to Annex C) and E (Local Content Declaration: Supporting Schedule to Annex C)].

1. General Conditions

- 1.1. Preferential Procurement Regulations, 2017 (Regulation 8) make provision for the promotion of local production and content.
- 1.2. Regulation 8. (2) prescribes that in the case of designated sectors, organs of state must advertise such tenders with the specific bidding condition that only locally produced or manufactured goods, with a stipulated minimum threshold for local production and content will be considered.
- 1.3. Where necessary, for tenders referred to in paragraph 1.2 above, a two stage bidding process may be followed, where the first stage involves a minimum threshold for local production and content and the second stage price and B-BBEE.
- 1.4. A person awarded a contract in relation to a designated sector, may not sub-contract in such a manner that the local production and content of the overall value of the contract is reduced to below the stipulated minimum threshold.
- 1.5. The local content (LC) expressed as a percentage of the bid price must be calculated in accordance with the SABS approved technical specification number SATS 1286: 2011 as follows:

$$LC = [1 - x / y] * 100$$

Where

x is the imported content in Rand y is the bid price in Rand excluding value added tax (VAT)

Prices referred to in the determination of x must be converted to Rand (ZAR) by using the exchange rate published by South African Reserve Bank (SARB) on the date of advertisement of the bid as indicated in paragraph 3.1 below.

The SABS approved technical specification number SATS 1286:2011 is accessible on http://www.thedti.gov.za/industrial development/ip.jsp at no cost.

- 3.1. If yes, the rate(s) of exchange to be used in this bid to calculate the local content as prescribed in paragraph 1.5 of the general conditions must be the rate(s) published by SARB for the specific currency on the date of advertisement of the bid.

The relevant rates of exchange information is accessible on www.resbank.co.za

Indicate the rate(s) of exchange against the appropriate currency in the table below (refer to Annex A of SATS 1286:2011):

Currency	Rates of exchange

1. BACKGROUND INFORMATION

1.1 Sub-programme overview

The purpose of this sub-programme is to promote and regulate the application of appropriate environmental management instruments to ensure integrated environmental management in all media (land, coast and atmosphere) and facilitate the management and mitigation of impacts associated with air emissions, climate change, pollution and listed activities.

In particular, the main objectives of the climate change sub-directorate within the environmental management to:

- Monitor and evaluate the Provincial climate change adaptation responses and coordinate impact assessment programmes.
- Support the development of GHG emissions baselines in the Province and monitor climate change mitigation projects implementation aimed at reducing GHG levels.
- Promote and develop cooperation with other stakeholders on climate change and strengthen co-operative governance amongst the various tiers of government.
- Provide provincial scientific and specialists' inputs on climate change policy documents and further give advice and guidance.

1.2 Project Background

Biogas is a gaseous mixture generated during anaerobic digestion processes using waste water, solid waste (e.g. at landfills), organic waste, e.g. animal manure, and other sources of biomass. Anaerobic digestion is the biological degradation of biomass in oxygen-free conditions. In the absence of oxygen, anaerobic bacteria will ferment biodegradable matter into methane (40-70%), carbon dioxide (30-60%), hydrogen (0-1%) and hydrogen sulphide (0-3%), a mixture called biogas. Biogas is formed solely through the activity of bacteria. Although the process itself generates heat, additional heat is required to maintain the ideal process temperature of at least 35°C. In comparison, the methane component of natural gas could amount to over 80%. In nature, biogas is generated at the bottom of stagnated ponds, lakes, swamps or in the digestive system of animals.

Biogas can be produced on a very small scale for household use, mainly for cooking and water heating or on larger industrial scale, where it can either be burnt in power generation devices for on-site (co)generation, or upgraded to natural gas standards for injection into the natural gas network as bio methane or for use directly as gaseous biofuel in gas engine- based captive fleets such as buses.

The household feedstock, e.g. animal dung or sewage, is converted to slurry with up to 95% water, and – for small-scale applications – fed into a purpose-built digester. Digesters come in many forms and sizes, their capacity may range from 1 m<sup>3</sup> for a small household unit to some 10 m<sup>3</sup> for a typical farm plant and more than 1,000 m<sup>3</sup> for a large installation (Larkin et al., 2004). Biogas production in such cases can be both continuous and in batches with digestion taking place for a period from ten days to a few weeks.

1.3 Purpose of the Terms of Reference

The purpose of this Terms of Reference (TOR) is to solicit the services of a service provider/s that have the expertise to assist EDTEA to install above ground small-scale domestic biogas technology (with a potential to digest up to 25kg of organic waste per day). This project aims to install biogas-digesters suitable for rural households to generate biogas from organic waste (animal manure) as primary feed. The project will target twelve (24) rural households as a pilot phase at the two districts. This pilot phase will earmark 12 households in uGu district and 12 households in Amajuba district, and this will be subject to suitability and availability of sufficient organic waste and water daily.

2. CONTRACT OBJECTIVES

2.1 Objectives and Expected Results

Generally, energy is one of the key drivers of our economy as well as basic livelihoods. Our GHG inventory has identified energy as a leading sector where fuel combustion contributes more to the province's GHG emission profile. Diesel contributes the highest, followed by Liquefied Petroleum Gas (LPG), then paraffin. LPG and paraffin generated emissions are associated with the residential sub-category as opposed to commercial sub-category. This means heavy reliance on these fuels by some of our households.

Based on these outcomes we are prioritising biogas technology installation project for households. The project carries benefits for low income households, potential for private sector involvement and partnership, reduction of greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions from biomass which come from agricultural activities. It seeks to reduce heavy reliance on fuel wood, LPG and paraffin, which should improve our current GHG emissions profile and also improving household state of air quality.

2.2 Introduction: Why the Project is Important?

South Africa has an objective to diversify energy mix, which is currently dominated by coal and (predominantly) imported transport fuels. The Province is expected to contribute in the low carbon economy as committed by the country through the Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs) under the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC). The implementation of a biogas project also provides a number of benefits. At a rural local municipality level which is targeted by this project biogas is expected to improve health of low-income households by providing a cleaner cooking fuel and a waste handling solution thus avoiding health problems improved savings in the long run. Environmental benefits related to the reduction in greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions by displacing the burning of fuel wood and paraffin in inefficient cook stoves with biogas.

2.3 Overall objectives

The specific objectives of the project are:

- To install the biogas technology (above ground digesters) in 24 rural households (12 in Amajuba district and 12 in uGu district) for cooking and other needs possible.
- To reduce the methane greenhouse gas emissions profile from the livestock entericfermentation in the province.
- To improve socio-economic conditions of the rural communities within the province.

3. SCOPE OF WORK

3.1 Specific Activities

Activity 1: Project Planning

- Identification & Assessment of sites (This will assist in checking out the feasibility of the selected site; which will minimize chances of failure for the project)
- Develop a shortlist of sites where there is ease of collection of manure for ingesting into the biogas digester (i.e. agriculture waste, where there are two to three cows that a household keep in a kraal overnight) and a reliable source of water.
- A digester needs between 20 and 30 kg of manure and between 30 and 50 litres of water per day to produce enough gas for a household to cook between 2 – 3 hours aday.
- Conduct broader stakeholder consultations with locals to ensure suitable sites are chosen and get consensus on the best approach.
- Assessment of technology requirement
  - Ascertain if technology meets the requirements of end users
  - As biogas digester is an established technology, the risk of identifying wrong equipment is low. Consulting technical experts and private sector providers will mitigate the risk.

- Type and quantity of equipment and accessories required to install above-ground digesters with a potential to digest 25 kg organic waste per day per household are listed below;
  1. Digester. [x24]
  2. Gas holder tank. [x24]
  3. Inlet pipe: a 90mm diameter pipe, a little longer than the height of the digester tank, fitted into a 90mm "T" at the bottom and fixed loosely to the top of the tank, in upright position. This pipe will also serve as a purge if necessary. [x24]
  4. Funnel: fix to the top of the inlet pipe to pour in feedstock material. [x24]
  5. Effluent outlet: fitted at the top of the digester tank. (Collect effluent liquid and use it to mix with fresh feedstock, or put on your compost heap.) [x24]
  6. Gas outlet: brass valve fitted to the top of the smaller inner tank and directed toward a gas stove. Flex hose and PVC pipe. [x24]
  7. Small gas stove [x24]
  8. Frame structure: built above the tanks to stop the gas tank falling out when too full. [x24]

Activity 2: Implementation (installation)

- Procurement of equipment

Following standard procurement procedures ensure that all the right equipment and accessories required for installation are procured.

- Installation of equipment

Installation of equipment and ready to use at all the identified sites. Any additional structural changes required for installation performed.

Activity 3: Handover, training and capacity building of beneficiaries. This is to ensure sustainability of the project. Service provider to propose intervals to visit the project to assess its status and sustainability post installation.

3.2. Outputs and Deliverables

OUTPUT 1: Successful stakeholder engagement: To ensure buy in from the communities a series of stakeholder engagements will be undertaken. For projects of this nature to succeed, extensive stakeholder engagement is critical. The following stakeholders will be considered:

- Meetings with and presentations to officials from relevant municipalities
- Discussions with Departments of Agriculture in the various local municipalities
- Meetings with ward councilors and Amakhosi

OUTPUT 2: List of project beneficiaries compiled guided by the availability of primary feedstock mainly organic waste like cow manure as well as a reliable source of water. This means that the extents of the technology will be guided by the number of homesteads that qualify.

OUTPUT 3: Twenty-Four (Twelve per district) households are earmarked (possibly clustered or spread out).

- A detailed work plan (including costing) for installing digesters at twelve households (clustered or spread out) will need to be developed as informed by assessments conducted.

OUTPUT 4: Project implementation: Technicians to undertake technical work for project implementation. The technical details to be included are:

- Proper site selection (based on availability of feedstock and water).
- Gas line into the house gas stove installation (The gas line is a standard flex hose, which can be buried underground).
- Testing for leaks (gas and water) and priming.

NB: Utilization of local youth possessing skills from vocational training should be considered where semi-skilled workers are required.

OUTPUT 5: Operation guiding manuals/procedures that will be used across the board: Operational guiding manuals should include how the technology is used and maintained as well as agricultural use of effluents (where applicable).
