2. Departmental and Programme Overview

- 2.1 The Enterprise Development Chief Directorate co-ordinates small enterprise development support services and promotes the development of sustainable SMMEs and co-operatives/social enterprises that contribute to wealth and job creation. Further it aims at improving the state of readiness of small enterprises towards contributing to economic growth, inclusion and local economic development. The Enterprise Development Unit amongst other things identifies market failures that contribute towards the exclusion of small enterprises in the mainstream economy and provides appropriate business support and business development services to such small enterprises. Some of the intervention strategies that are common are the following:
- 2.2 Training, mentorship and incubation: The nature of this intervention strategy involves providing both technical (hard skills) and business management (soft skills) to small enterprises in their respective sectors/industries in different district municipal areas. These interventions are aimed at improving skills, knowledge and capabilities of small enterprises to run their businesses effectively and sustainably. In particular, interventions focus on assisting small enterprises to gain the following:
 - Business management skills and industry knowledge
 - Increasing and propelling business growth and productivity
 - Providing a platform and an opportunity to interact with other businesses (networking) in the same industry or sector
 - Generate new business ideas
- 2.3 Funding: So often small enterprises even if they have a bankable business idea, the development financial institutions as well as commercial banking institutions find it a risky business to give them credit and/or finance because of an absence of credit record and credit worthiness. This is also some kind of market failure which inhibits the small enterprises from getting into business. Enterprise Development has set aside a number of funding packages such as Operation Vula Fund (OVF) and the Small Micro & Medium Enterprise Development Fund (SMME Fund) administered through the Ithala Development Finance Corporation. OVF Funding is grant funding (no cost to capital) and the SMME's Fund has a low interest rate relative to the market. The nature of this intervention makes it easy for small enterprises to access funding.
 - 2.4 Business registration: For many private and public institutions to account and to enter into any agreement with another institution and/or company, the latter has to be registered and be made to be a formal legal institution. The Enterprise Development Chief Directorate, through its Cooperatives Development Directorate helps in conducting pre-incorporation and formalization of the business entities thus empowering small enterprises to be legally compliant, entrepreneurially, technically and commercially competent.
 - 2.5 Business advisory services: From time to time the Directorate for Cooperatives Development receives calls from cooperatives in need of assistance. The Directorate is also a reservoir for information dissemination, knowledge and skills necessary for small enterprises to start, manage and sustain their businesses. It (the Directorate) can also give generic advice on opportunities available so that cooperatives can and may diversify their market share and thus improve their market streams and profit margins.

2.6 Rationale of the Project

One has always to justify the choice of a project given the fact that government has scarce resources and there are a number of project options or interventions that can be undertaken to address the same market failure. In the light of the above it is important that having identified a market failure such as the lack of on-site hand holding mentorship, it is important to choose an intervention and/or option which is relatively more affordable and which will reap the required results or outcomes almost immediately as small enterprises cannot wait for a long time before they could see the difference. The cause-effect relationship has to be identified and the shortest, affordable route to address the challenge has to be adopted. There is a general outcry that small enterprises fail within a period of two years simply because they are funded and no post investment skills development support is given. Further, government is always accused of funding projects and/or small enterprises and do not make follow ups to make sure that value for money is achieved and that the intended objectives are realized. For this reason this project on 37
