In 2010 the KwaZulu-Natal Department of Economic Development, Tourism and Environmental Affairs (EDTEA) identified the need to transform the province's economy to a green economy, in line with national policy. EDTEA therefore initiated a project in the second half of 2010 to better understand and promote the green economy in KwaZulu-Natal (KZN). The first phase of the Green Economy Project (Unlocking the KwaZulu-Natal Green Economy) was completed in February 2011 with the production of a literature review to define the green economy, and a sector analysis of green economy activities in KZN Province, which identified priority areas and interventions for greening the provincial economy.

Sector and multi-stakeholder workshops were conducted to augment the sector analysis, and to initiate a collaborative process with key stakeholders to stimulate and unlock the green economy. By harnessing interest around the green economy, this interactive process resulted in the beginning of a green economy 'community of innovation', or green economy hub. Most of the stakeholders interviewed and those involved in the workshops indicated that they would like to develop partnerships with government to drive the green economy initiative forward.

EDTEA (Department of Economic Development, Tourism and Environmental Affairs) further initiated the KZN Green Economy rooftop PV study, the aims of which were to promote the use of and improve the uptake of renewable energy in KZN. Buildings used in the study were government owned buildings, with an emphasis on fostering public awareness of renewable energy. As part of this study, CRSES (Centre for Renewable and Sustainable Energy Studies), Stellenbosch University, in partnership with the EDTEA, approached various organizations within KZN to discuss potential sites for installing rooftop PV (Photovoltaic) systems. CRSES subsequently conducted prefeasibility studies on six (6) selected client sites, detailing recommended PV-System specifications and financial payback scenarios.

Brief background of Balele Community Game Park

- a) The Balele Community Game Park is a government owned building which comprises of refurbished containers on land that is fully serviced with necessary infrastructure and support facilities to create an enabling environment for the region.
- b) The Utrecht Balele Community Game Park surrounds the whole town of Utrecht and therefore makes Utrecht a Town Within a Game Park with no fences between the town and the game park. The Game Park covers an area of over 2500 ha and is stocked with no fewer than fifteen game species, including Impala, Blesbok, Kudu, Blue Wildebeest, Red Hartebeest, Nyala, Bushbuck, Burchell's Zebra, Common Duiker, Steenbok, Eland, Waterbuck, Mountain Reedbuck, Warthog and Giraffe, not to mention the myriad of natural predators such as caracal, serval and now recently a resident Leopard.
- c) The birdlife in the game park is prolific with over 250 species being recorded in the area and recently a wetland area has been rehabilitated, which includes a bird hide and has already attracted several new bird species to the park.
- d) The vegetation in the park varies from open spaces and grassland to dense Acacia woodland and thickets, all the way to mountain grassland on top of the mountain plateaus.

Value Proposition for Balele Community Game Park.

Economic impact of installing Solar PV System at Balele Game Park

The installation of a solar photovoltaic (PV) system at the Balele Community Game Park by the Department of Economic Development, Tourism and Environmental Affairs could yield significant economic impacts. Below are various aspects to consider:

1) Cost Savings on Energy

- a) Reduced Energy Costs: The solar PV system would lower electricity expenses for park operations, including lighting, maintenance facilities, and visitor amenities. This could free up funds for other conservation and community initiatives.
- b) Long-term Savings: Once installed, solar energy systems typically have low operational costs, providing a reliable source of energy without the volatility of fossil fuel prices.

2) Job Creation

- a) Installation and Maintenance Jobs: The project would create temporary jobs during the installation phase, and ongoing maintenance would provide long-term employment opportunities in the local community.
- b) Skill Development: Training programs for residents in solar technology and maintenance could enhance workforce skills, contributing to future job opportunities in the renewable energy sector.

3) Tourism Enhancement

- a) Eco-Friendly Tourism Appeal: The integration of renewable energy sources can attract eco-conscious tourists interested in sustainability. Marketing the game park as a green destination could increase visitor numbers.
- b) Improved Visitor Experience: Enhanced facilities powered by solar energy could improve the overall visitor experience, potentially leading to longer stays and increased spending in the local economy.

4) Community Benefits

- a) Energy Access for Local Communities: If the solar PV system includes provisions for nearby communities, it could provide clean and affordable electricity, improving quality of life and enabling local businesses to thrive.
- b) Social Responsibility: Demonstrating a commitment to sustainable practices can enhance the park's reputation, fostering goodwill and support from the community.

5) Environmental Sustainability

- a) Reduced Carbon Footprint: Utilizing solar energy decreases reliance on fossil fuels, helping the park to meet environmental sustainability goals and reducing greenhouse gas emissions.
- b) Biodiversity Preservation: By lowering the park's carbon footprint, the solar initiative indirectly supports biodiversity conservation efforts, which can have long-term economic benefits tied to ecosystem services.

6) Attracting Investment

- a) Increased Funding Opportunities: A commitment to renewable energy can attract funding from governmental and non-governmental organizations focused on sustainability and conservation, enhancing the park's financial stability.
- b) Partnership Opportunities: Collaborations with renewable energy companies and conservation organizations could lead to additional projects and funding.

7) Resilience to Energy supply disruptions

- a) Energy Independence: By generating its energy, the park becomes less vulnerable to fluctuations in energy supply and prices, leading to more stable operations and financial planning.
- b) Emergency Preparedness: In case of grid failures or natural disasters, having a solar PV system can ensure continuity of essential services within the park.

The installation of a solar PV system at the Balele Community Game Park has the potential to generate a wide range of economic impacts, from cost savings and job creation to enhanced tourist appeal and community benefits. By embracing renewable energy, the park can position itself as a leader in sustainable tourism and conservation, ultimately contributing to both local economic development and environmental stewardship. Collaborating with the community and stakeholders will be essential to maximize these benefits and ensure the project's success.

PURPOSE OF THE TOR

The purpose of this document is to solicit the services of Solar Panel Installation Providers to design, supply, deliver, install, maintain and commission the required 30 KWp grid tied solar photovoltaic system at Balele Community Game Park in Utrecht in the Amajuba District.

PROJECT OBJECTIVES

Why The Project is Important

a) South Africans are turning to Green Energy

As South Africans turn to solar energy, especially Solar Photovoltaic as an alternative energy source for relief from the hefty electricity costs, it is the best time to transition to the green energy.

b) The rising popularity of Solar Energy in South Africa

South African President, Cyril Ramaphosa is also supporting the idea of households and companies generating their own energy and this is further solidifying the narrative of going for solar energy.

Solar Energy becoming popular in South Africa

Going for green energy proves to be one of the most efficient means to combat the life-threatening climate change crisis. It is one of the strategies that South Africans are using to address climate change.

a) The cost of implementing Solar Energy is manageable.

The World Economic Forum (WEF) classifies setting up solar systems as cost-effective compared to cost of installing standard electricity and most other alternative energy sources like fossil fuels and natural gas.

b) Solar Is a reliable off-grid Power solution.

Solar power banks with portable solar chargers have become a reliable power solution for people in areas lacking regular power grids. Innovations are bringing on board solar powered generators friendly to the environment without carbon dioxide emissions. The benefits of solar are endless, the cost of solar installation affordable, and you have a pool of solar installers to have the job done.

c) Solar Energy supports recycling.

As solar panels come out of service, recycling plants can extract useful minerals like polymers, copper, silicon and parts like glass and aluminum that could be used for another purpose or even in the manufacture of refurbished or new solar panels.

d) Powering Renewable Energy

No matter their abundance, pollutant fossil fuels are exhaustible – once extracted and used, that means no more power. Solar energy is the saviour of the limited exhaustible energy sources. Nuclear engineers estimate that harnessing solar energy from 1% of the Sahara Desert could power the entire world.

e) Green Energy is climate friendly.

Unlike the fossil fuels that emit carbon dioxide in generating regular electricity ending up polluting the environment, solar energy does not produce environment contaminants. They are a clean and sustainable energy source producing electricity at molecular levels without carbon combustion.

Overall objective

The overall objective of the project is to assist government to turn the energy source for its buildings to solar energy especially Solar Photovoltaic as an alternative energy source for relief from the hefty electricity costs and assist in the implementation of green energy to curb greenhouse gas emissions.
